City Covers Trade School Realty Cost

Payment for the local site should Hope be approved by the state government as the site of the projected southwest Arkansas Trade School will be guaranteed by the City of Hope, it was announced Thursday night at an open meeting of the Trade School Committee of Hope Chamber of Commerce in the city hall.

The guarantee was disclosed by Lloyd Spencer, member of the Water & Light Plant Commission, who said he had talked to the other four commissioners and found sentiment to be unanimous.

Mr. Spencer said the Water & Light Commission, which is the funds-holding unit of the municipally-owned utility and the city-manager government, said it would cover estimated land-purchase cost of approximately $40,000, "give or take $5,000, with the sole stipulation that in the event the site should ever cease to be used for the Trade School then title should revert to the City of Hope."

Thursday night's meeting — only the second one, the initial meeting having been held March 5 — was called by Bill Gunter to finalize Hope's application for the Trade School. The Trade School Committee chairman, Jack Gardner, reported that the application will probably be filed the middle of next week along with three land options.

Committee members serving with Mr. Gardner are: County Judge Orie Byers, State Representative Talbot Feild, Jr., and City School Superintendent James H. Jones.

The state will pick two sites for regional Trade Schools some time after July 1—one in northeast Arkansas and the other in the southwestern corner. Competition for the local site is rugged, applications besides Hope's being expected from: Magnolia, El Dorado, Texarkana, Nashville, Arkadelphia, and possibly other towns.

State appropriations for construction of the schools will become available July 1, and applications with accompanying land options must be on file before that date. Selection of the two school sites will be made by the State Board of Education and the Advisory Council to the State Board of Vocational Education.

Rockefeller in Winthrop

ASHDOWN, Ark. (AP) — Winthrop Rockefeller, the Republican candidate for governor, scheduled handshaking trips through eight Little River County towns today.

Among the towns on the schedule is Winthrop, population 225.

Rockefeller also was scheduled to go to Ogden, Ashdown, Wilton, Alleene, Cross Roads, Foreman and Wallace to meet voters.

Believes Votes Enough to Cut Rights Debate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Milton R. Young of North Dakota, secretary to the Conference of Republican Senators, said today he believes the necessary two-thirds vote will be won to shut off debate on the civil rights bill.

Young made the estimate to reporters after a third closed caucus of GOP senators on a proposed package of amendments to the bill.

He declined to say when he felt the two-thirds margin needed to impose debate-limiting closure might be available.

The conference did not finish its discussion of the amendments, and another session was called for Monday.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the party Senate leader, said he was hopeful Monday's session would be the last.

He brought to the conference three additional pages of changes in the bill but said they were not major and should not cause more trouble in working out an informal agreement on the package.

The GOP senators at their caucus today did not reach one of the titles that has given Republicans most concern—the job discrimination provision.

Sen. Norris Cotton of New Hampshire said he was not at all satisfied that the proposed changes in the employment title. He said they "are just polishing the apple."

He called this part of the bill "dangerous and vicious" and said that unless the Senate has a chance to vote on it separately, he would think a long time before he would vote on closure.

Backers of the bill are counting on President Johnson to supply a big, final push for passage.

"He's the 'can do' man," assistant Democratic Leader Hubert H. Humphrey told a reporter. "He knows how to get things done."

So, Humphrey said, when the drive for closure to still the Southern filibuster is made ear-

U.S. Jets Over Laos Signal More Action

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The start of U.S. jet reconnaissance flights over Red - threatened Laos may be only the first of several actions enlarging American military operations in Southeast Asia, officials said today.

Faced with Communist advances posing increasingly serious threats to Laos and neighboring South Viet Nam, U.S. policymakers have been considering a wide variety of moves, including:

Strikes against North Viet Nam, dispatch of more air and sea power into the area, landing of forces in Thailand if the Thai government agrees such help is necessary, and direct military intervention in Laos itself.

Further steps will be ordered, officials said, if the situation continues to deteriorate.

In another development, not necessarily connected with the Laotian crisis, a Navy carrier squadron has left the Indian Ocean and rejoined the main body of the U.S. 7th Fleet in the Pacific, it was learned today.

It brings to three the force of big attack carriers in Far Eastern waters.

Officials said they were not certain how quickly the confrontation in Southeast Asia would reach a showdown stage if diplomacy fails to find a way out of the present crisis.

Events could develop quickly, however, depending on what the Communists decide to do.

President Johnson and Secretary of State Dean Rusk were described as still hopeful that diplomatic pressures and the prospect of greater U.S. military involvement in the area would cause the Communists to stop their offensive campaign against the forces of the neutralist Laotian government.

The reconnaissance flights were announced by the State Department Thursday after Pe-king Radio broadcast a report that Communist Pathet Lao troops had fired on two U.S. jet planes flying over the Plaine des Jarres.

The State Department said the United States had undertaken the reconnaissance flight in response to a request from the Lao government.

A spokesman declared that the information gained from the flights would be turned over both to the Laotian government and to the International Control Commission, formed by India, Canada and Poland. The commission has the task of supervising the international agreement under which Laos was neutralized in 1962.

For Some Reason Americans Feel the Life of a Movie Star Is Full of Fun and Romance

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — If day-dreams came true overnight, half the people in America would probably wake up tomorrow as movie stars.

For some reason they feel the life of a movie star is romantic and glamorous.

To me it seems just the opposite. I think it would be a big fat bore. I'd rather be a banker, an undertaker or a successful burglar.

In the popular mind, a movie star dwells in an atmosphere of wine and roses and goes through the world on a wave of general adulation amid the music of applause.

Actually, no matter how assiduously studio underlings cur-rycomb his vanity, a movie star is less of a god than he is a human panic button.

Being a star isn't a freedom. It's a kind of imprisonment. The moment an actor becomes a star his ordeal begins. His success brings him no self-confidence. It operates the other way. Success tends to make him a coward. He thought clawing his way to the top was hard. But he finds staying there is even more difficult.

"You're only as good as your last picture," is the industry dictum that haunts his nights and days.

Admittedly the take-home pay of a movie star is some compensation for the emotional bruises he suffers, but his career woes are many.

My disillusionment with the life of movie idols came with my first visit to Hollywood. I went to a set where Cary Grant, Ethel Barrymore and a bulldog were making a film.

It was a long and wordy scene during which all the bulldog had to do was get up and walk across the set, on cue.

But the bulldog was dumb. Over and over and over, Cary and Miss Barrymore patiently went through their lines. Each time the bulldog messed up the act. When I left, they had shot the scene 10 times, and the dog still hadn't got his part right. Why they didn't just shoot him I don't know.

How would you like to be a million-dollar-a-year movie star and still be at the mercy of a befuddled bulldog?

Wherever he goes, the movie star is recognized, pointed at, buttonholed and whispered about. People regard him as public property. He can't even go into a store and buy a pair of shoes without a fanfare of trumpets.

Most movie stars say this lack of the ordinary anonymity that shelters most of us is the biggest curse of their careers. Yet if a movie star does go into a store and buys a pair of shoes, and no one recognizes him, he dies a thousand deaths. Is he slipping?

Glamour, romance, excitement. Where a hobo on the road has more liberty than a movie star—and probably more real human fun.

UN Plans Study of Proposals

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — U.N. delegates today studied the possibility of the Security Council agreeing on U.S. proposals for the United Nations to sponsor military patrols along the troubled border between Cambodia and South Viet Nam.

Cambodia's representative at the U.N., Ambassador Voensai Sonn, told a reporter the suggestions for a U.N. watch on the frontier were "the really important part" of the policy speech that U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson made to the 11-nation council Thursday. He asked his government for comment.

Moroccan Ambassador Ahmed Taibi Benhima was in touch with other council delegates trying to find the basis for a resolution on the dispute.

The council meets again Monday.

Cambodia has charged that South Vietnamese troops, accompanied by U.S. officers, have been crossing into Cambodia and killing villagers. Sonn denied to the council Thursday that Communists fighting against the South Vietnamese government were using Cambodia as a sanctuary.

Stevenson insisted they were and said "this is the real reason for troubles on the Cambodian border." He admitted that an American adviser was with the South Vietnamese on one of the three border crossings Cambodia cited to the council. Pham Khac Rau of South Viet Nam said his country's troops had made an "occasional inadvertent crossing in pursuit of their enemies."

Stevenson made three alternative suggestions:

1. That the council ask Cambodia and South Viet Nam to establish a joint military force to patrol the frontier and report to U.N. Secretary - General U. Thant;

2. That the force be given U.N. observers or a U.N. Command;

3. That it be "an all -U.N. force."

He said the United States would contribute part of the cost of a U.N. force.

Sonn pressed for a new Geneva conference to guarantee Cambodia's neutrality and territorial integrity, but Stevenson said: "There is no need for another such conference. A Geneva conference on Cambodia could not be expected to produce an agreement any more effective than the agreement we already have."

The Vietnamese representative renewed his government's proposal for direct border talks between Cambodia and South Viet Nam. But Sonn brushed off that proposal.

The U.S. ambassador charged that North Vietnamese Communists, helped by the Chinese Communists, were trying to overthrow the governments of South Viet Nam and Laos.

Booms Touch Off Bombing Reports

MCGUIRE AIR FORCE BASE, N.J. (AP) — A low level supersonic boom startled residents of three New Jersey counties early today and touched off reports of a huge explosion in the central shore area of the state.

The sonic boom was produced by a plane participating in an Air Force training exercise, an Air Force spokesman said.

The exercise, called Top Rung 4, is a joint operation by the Strategic Air Command and the Air Defense Command, in which subsonic and supersonic booms, both at high and low altitudes, would occur, he said.

In scope, the exercise covered the northeastern United States and as far south as South Carolina and as far west as Chicago.

Unusually Hot Over The Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Unseasonably hot weather that sent temperatures to record high marks for the date in many Midwest areas Thursday moved eastward today, indicating an end of a cool spell in some eastern sections of the nation.

The midsummer heat covered most of the Plains and Midwest with temperatures in the 80s and 90s. In North Dakota the mercury hit the 100-degree mark in Grand Forks and 98 in Fargo, record high marks for May 21.

Minnesota also reported top marks for the date, including 95 International Falls, on the Canadian border.

Readings were in the 100-degree level in the Southwest desert region Thursday for the fourth straight day.

Some cooler air appeared headed into the northern Plains as the hot air spread eastward and was expected to extend over the Great Lakes region, the Ohio Valley and the Middle and North Atlantic States.

Expressway Problem Solved

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Financial problems delaying construction of the East-west expressway and the University Park urban renewal project at Little Rock have been solved. City Manager Anil Douthit said Thursday.

Douthit said work should begin on the first phase of the expressway within six months.

Douthit said the city will be able to buy 12 acres of right-of-way for an interchange for $428,000, which is $222,000 less than the price the government first requested.

The city also will receive $360,000 credit toward its one third matching fund obligation for the urban renewal project because the school board plans to build a high school there.

Duden Fires Best Round at Memphis

By VAN SAVELL

MEMPHIS (AP) — Bob Duden hasn't won a golf tournament in 14 years on the pro circuit, but you wouldn't believe it after his last 36 holes.

The veteran from Portland, Ore., who uses his bent-shaft putter like a croquet mallet, has everything but a hole-in-one to his credit. Duden had a 68 Wednesday, including a double eagle, an eagle and a triple bogey. That was only a preview.

Duden fired a five-under-par 65 Thursday and took the first-round lead in the $50,000 Memphis Open Golf Tournament. He had five birdies and 13 par holes.

Training the 43-year-old Duden by one stroke with 66s were pre-tournament favorite Arnold Palmer, Gene Littler, Gay Brewer and young Paul Bonde- son. Bruce Devlin, Mason Rudolph and Doug Sanders were bunched at 67.

Defending champion Tony Lema, his ailing back much improved, had a 68. Jack Nicklaus, unable to recover from a double bogey first hole, shot a 72-over-par 72.

In all, 33 golfers broke par over the 6,466-yard, par 34-36-70 Colonial Country Club course. There were 15 others bunched at 70. The first cut will be made today with the low 80 going in Saturday's round. The low 60 will go in Sunday's final round with $7,500 going to the winner.

Delegates Told to Vote Rockefeller

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas' 12 delegates to the Republican National Convention were instructed Thursday to nominate Winthrop Rockefeller for president, but they weren't committed to vote for him.

The Arkansas Republican Central Committee approved the nomination of Rockefeller, brother of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, after Winthrop won a battle with GOP State Chairman William L. Spicer.

Winthrop is the Republican candidate for governor.

Old Boat Is Heading for Alaska

By DALE NELSON

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — A 96-foot vessel built in 1891 as a fireboat is heading for Alaska's Aleutian Islands with a deckload of baled hay, a hold full of livestock and a pioneering family that thinks Montana's getting too crowded.

Aboard the freighter Robert Eugene are 500 sheep, five horses, half a dozen pigs, one rooster, a dog named smokey, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Choate and their three children.

"We're all looking forward to this," Choate said Thursday. "We will have our ranch and a chance to build it as big as we want it. We're all used to hard work."

"When you can hear your neighbor's rooster crow, it's time to move," said Choate, 52. Last May, Choate sold the seven sections of land on which he had ranched for 27 years near Miles City, Mont. He leased 265,000 acres from Uncle Sam on Unalaska Island, near the head of the Aleutian chain.

The rancher bought the Robert Eugene here. He put two below the main deck, built pens for the stock and installed a ventilation system. Rugs were put down to keep the horses from slipping on the wooden decking, and the bulkheads were padded with mattresses.

Choate hired Jack Graham, a veteran of Alaskan waters, as skipper.

Mr. and Mrs. Choate and the children, Jim, 19, Susan, 20, and Ted, 10, will take turns as crew members on the 2,400-mile voyage. They figure it will take two weeks.

Indians Want U.S. Planes

WASHINGTON (AP) — India is asking the United States to sell it three squadrons of F104 Sabre jet supersonic fighters as part of the Indian defense buildup against Communist China, diplomatic sources said today.

The jets would cost an estimated $150 million.

While no decision has yet been reached, sources indicated the Indian request was running into State Department resistance on the grounds such a sale would upset U.S. relations with Pakistan.

AFL Talks Plan for Expansion

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Development of an expansion policy today is the No. 1 task on the American Football League agenda, made more crowded by a proposed all-star game rejected by the National Football League.

Dave Dixon of New Orleans, using warm weather and January television exposure as his selling points will propose a three-game AFL title playoff. The second game—and third if needed—would be in New Orleans.

Dixon's proposal had been scheduled for Thursday, before the National Broadcasting Co. made its offer to donate $500,000 to the Kennedy Memorial Library Fund for rights to an AFL-NFL all-star game.

Joe Foss, AFL commissioner, called a special meeting before the regular session. The AFL owners unanimously approved the NBC offer.

No target date for expansion is expected to come out of the

Portland, Travs Sweep Twin Bills

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Portland took a doubleheader from Indianapolis 4-3 and 3-0 and Arkansas swept a twinbill with Seattle 10-5 and 5-0 Thursday, extending their division leads in the Pacific Coast League.

Chico Salmon lined a two-run homer into the left field stands in the final inning to win the seven-inning opener for Portland. Sam McDowell held Indianapolis to four hits in the nine-inning nightcap for his seventh victory without a loss and fifth shutout.

At Seattle, a six-run fifth inning climaxed by a grand slam homer by Howie Goss clinched Arkansas' win in the first game. Bill Smith pitched a three-hitter for the Travelers in the finale.

Both games were seven innings. At Oklahoma City, the 89ers—running second in the league's Eastern Division 1½ games behind Arkansas—defeated Hawaii 7-6. With two out in the last of the ninth, Jim Beauchamp lined a three-run homer just inside the left field foul line for the victory. Beauchamp had homer with none on in the second.

Elsewhere, Salt Lake City edged Spokane 4-3, San Diego blanked Dallas 8-0 and Tacoma downed Denver 9-1.

Billy Ott blasted a solo homer in the eighth to give Salt Lake its winning edge, and good relief pitching by Jack Warner in the bottom of the ninth protected the lead for the Bees.

Ted Willis held Dallas to five hits in San Diego's shutout, and Tacoma's Al Stanek gave up only three hits in the Giants' triumph over Denver.

The AFL owners want time to consolidate their positions under the $36 million five-year NBC contract which starts in 1965 before considering new members. If and when the eight-club league decides to expand, it's likely New Orleans would be one of the first clubs considered.

Domingo walked slowly toward Malcolm, his great thick arms swinging out wide from his body. "I killed them. I killed them. I didn't want to. She made me."

"You wanted to kill her," Malcolm said. "You're a pig, and you can't be happy in anything but a world of swine. She knew that. And you couldn't make her change her mind."

There was a confused and frightened look on Domingo's face, as if he had just seen a trusted friend turn into a savage enemy before his eyes. "The boats are bringing them in safely," he said and his tongue curled like a pink snake in his beard when he wet his dry lips. "Don't you understand? It's working as I planned it. Now we can do something bigger, you and I. I need you. I waited for you, do not you believe that? Together we can do something so wonderful the memory will thrill us all our lives." He laughed hoarsely and spread his arms in a gesture so wide that it looked as if he were trying to embrace the whole world.

Clarke and Zarren and Jorge stood behind him in a semicircle. They studied the Frenchman's kneeling figure with cautious eyes and with even greater caution, risked occasional glances at the gun in Malcolm's hand.

"You can kill anyone for me," Domingo said desperately and fumbled for his own gun.

"Yes that's what I'm going to do," Malcolm said, and remembering that the automatic kicked high and left, he shot Domingo three times through the heart.

Domingo lay on his back like a beached whale. Malcolm took the watch and chain from his sordid vest, ripped the bullet from it and put it in his pocket. He let the watch and chain fall on the sand as he turned and walked back up the beach.

Zarren stared after him until his figure was lost in the gray gloom of the morning. Then he said wearily, "It's over, finished."

"No, there's a chance," Clarke said.

Jorge stood between them with his hands locked together to stop their trembling. "There is no chance," Zarren said, still looking down the beach to where Malcolm had merged into the spray from the pounding waves and the trailing mists of dawn. "We must send the boats out to deep water and dump the rifles at sea." He nudged Domingo's body with his foot. "We will lash this to a few crates and throw it in, too. The guns will keep him down until the fish finish with him."

Clarke turned and looked with anguished eyes at the line of approaching boats. "They're so close," he cried. "We've got to take a chance."

Zarren shook his head slowly. "We'd be shot or hung within a week if we tried. It's over now. Forget it."

In his room Jenny Davis was waiting for him. She had been in Malaga that morning and was still dressed for the city in a neat dress and shiny patent leather slippers.

"Your door was open," she said hesitantly. "I wanted to talk to you, so I came in and waited."

"And how did everything else go?" She tried to smile. "Well, I

Judy Garland Acting Up in Australia

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Judy Garland locked herself in her hotel today after her Australian concert tour ended in a chorus of public indignation.

Her 21 pieces of luggage packed, the singer was scheduled to leave for Hong Kong although she canceled two early flights.

Miss Garland refused to accept any calls in her penthouse suite and a guard stood outside.

"Why would Judy want to see anyone in Sydney after this dreadful thing in this morning's paper?" asked Karl Brent, her manager.

"Judy would like to punch a few Sydney people on the nose," he jeered during a concert she cut short in Melbourne on Wednesday night, Miss Garland continued to draw critical comments for her performance at the Melbourne airport Thursday.

Sydney newspapers gave front-page display to stories of how she shouted "No, no!" as she was pushed aboard the plane by actor Mark Herron traveling companion, and three airport officials.

"She had been talking to fans and kissing babies," Brent said. "Her skirt started to slip a little. Judy turned round to fix it up. That was all there was to it. That is why it might have appeared she was hustled aboard the plane."

"From now on so far as Miss Garland is concerned, that's it," said Condoli. "No more for me."

"DEAR ABBY"

SOW THE SEED, LADY!

By Abigail Van Buren

Dear Abby: How do you tell city relatives that you aren't living on a farm just to keep their kids for the whole summer? These relatives don't ASK if they can send their children, they TELL you they are coming. I think two weeks is plenty, but we get them the day after school lets out, and they stay until the day before school starts again. These kids are older than our own, and they leave ours continually. I am supposed to do all the cooking, baking, washing, ironing and help with the chores in the field, and be real happy to have the extra work from the nieces and nephews. Advice through your column would be appreciated. Maybe they'll read it and take the hint.

DREADING SUMMER

Dear Dreading: If you haven't the courage to tell them that you will be glad to have their children for TWO WEEKS ONLY, then you'll have to put up with them all summer. The mock may indeed inherit the earth, but they don't have to accept abuse as a downpayment.

Dear Abby: I am 15 and am quite popular with both boys and girls. About fifty kids a day tell me that they tried to get me on my phone but my line was busy for so long they gave up. It's my mother! Abby, I hate to complain, but she is the gabbiest person in the whole world. . . and it is wrecking my popularity. She gets on the phone and talks for an hour to one person, and as soon as she hangs up she calls another person and ties up the phone for another hour. How does a 15-year-old girl tell her mother she talks too darned much?

GIRL WITH A GABBY MOTHER

Dear Girl: She doesn't—not if she's smart.

Dear Abby: I am so lonesome I could die. I would like a nice man I could support, keep house for, buy presents for and to love. All he would have to do is love me back. I have never had anyone love me and no one to love. I have been married for 22 years to a 1-don't-know-what-you-would-call-him, but he isn't a man. I am still married, but if a real man came along I would get a divorce fast. I am 53 but don't look it. I work every day and love my work. I want to meet a good clean man who would like to meet a good clean woman with a house (paid for), a car (also paid for) and a job.

LONESOME

Dear Lonesome: When you married your husband you swore in the presence of God and man to keep him in sickness or in health, for better or for worse, 'til death parted you. I don't know what ails your mate, but he is yours. You will have no trouble finding another male to support, buy presents for, keep house for and to "love" if all you ask in return is to be "loved back." But don't expect to replace your "I-don't-know-what-you-would-call-him" with a real man because real men don't let women support them in exchange for "love."

Confidential To Dottie and Fran: "Showers" are traditionally given FOR the bride by her friends. The bride and groom decide who shall be invited to the wedding. Everyone who is invited to a shower is not automatically invited to the wedding. Nor should they expect to be.

Get it off your chest. For a personal, unpublished reply, write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif., 90212. Enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif., 90212, for Abby's booklet, "How To Write Letters For All Occasions." For a reply to your personal letter write same address. Copyright McNaught Syndicate, Inc. 1964

Giants Regain Lead With Aid of Two Homers

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bennie Daniels, who used to throw bee bees, has switched baseballs and is off to the best start of his unspectacular major league career.

Daniels, 31-year-old right-hander of the Washington Senators, joined Dave Wickersham of Detroit and Minnesota's Camilo Pascual as the American League's winningest pitchers, picking up his fifth victory in the Senators' 8-2 triumph over the Tigers Thursday.

His victory total equals the number of games he won last season when he didn't gain a triumph until June 27.

Daniels needed relief help from Jim Duckworth in the ninth inning but still allowed the Tigers only four hits as he reduced his earned-run average to 2.94. He now has permitted one earned run in 15 2-3 innings.

Daniels never has reached the potential others thought he had when he joined the Pittsburgh Pirates in 1957. He pitched in four seasons with the Pirates but won only eight games while losing 16.

However, he was so fast it was said he threw bee bees.

Daniels won 12 games for the Senators in 1961, his career high, but won progressively fewer games the next two years. In 1962, for example, he won on opening day, then lost 10 in a row.

In other AL games, Baltimore outlasted Kansas City 7-6 despite Manny Jimenez' grand slam home run and Boston nipped Los Angeles 8-7.

In the National League, Los Angeles whipped New York 6-1. Houston stopped Pittsburgh 3-1. San Francisco knocked off Philadelphia 9-4 and St. Louis trounced Chicago 10-3.

The Senators provided Daniels with real support, scoring three runs in the first inning against Jack Hamilton in his first American League game. Chuck Hinton's double and Jim King's single sent home two of the runs. Hinton singled across two more runs in Washington's three-run seventh.

Ed Brinkman homered in the eighth for the Senators while Gates Brown connected in the first for Detroit. The Tigers added an unearned run in the sixth.

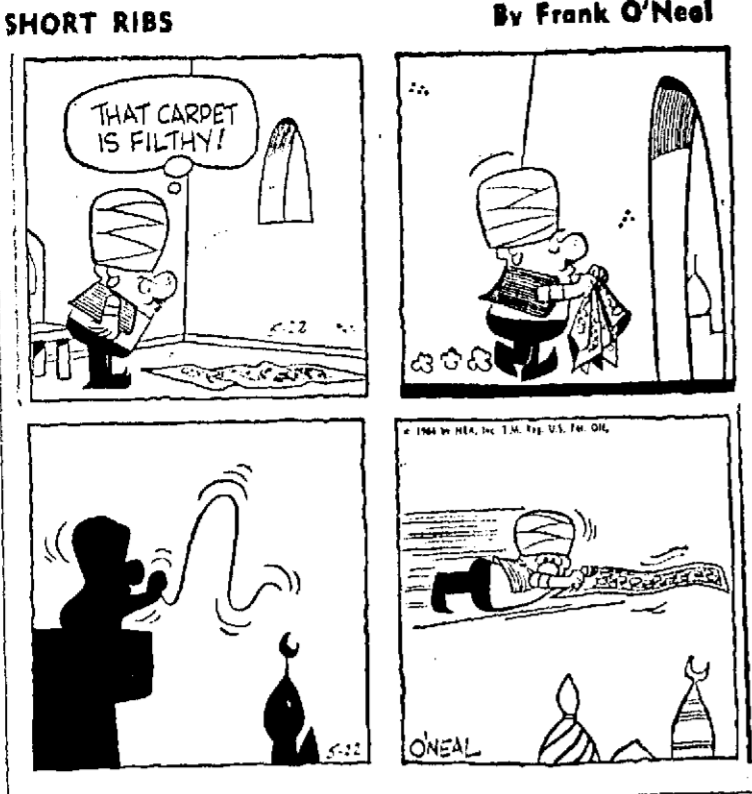

The Orioles led 7-2 going into the Athletics' eighth. Wally Bunker, who had scattered four hits, gave up singles to Nelson Mathews and Ed Charles before walking Jim Gentile.

Stu Miller came on for the 16th time this season and got Rocky Colavito on a fly ball. Jimenez then smashed his homer, cutting Baltimore's lead to a run.

Colavito homered in the fourth, tying Harmon Killebrew for the AL lead with 11. Brooks Robinson drove in three runs, and Boog Powell two for Baltimore.

The Red Sox eased by the Angels on a hit batsman and Carl Yastrzemski's triple to center field in the sixth off reliever Willie Smith.

The Angels tied the game 7-7 with five runs in the fifth. Arnold Earley walked in two of the runs. Frank Malone singled home two Boston runs in the five-run second, and Ed Bressoud slammed a two-run homer in the fourth.

Arkansas in Sweep of a Twin Bill

SEATTLE (AP)—Howie Goss smashed a grand slam home run and Billy Smith pitched a three-hitter to boost Arkansas to a doubleheader sweep over Seattle in Pacific Coast League baseball games here Thursday night.

The Travelers won the first game 10-5, the second 5-0.

Arkansas acted as home team in the first game—a makeup game and iced the triumph with a six-run fifth inning that included Goss' homer.

Pat Corrales lashed a two-run double for the Travelers in the sixth inning of the first game. Smith got help from Norm Gigon, who homered with two men on base in the last inning of the second game.

Wayne Graham's single had scored Bob Lipski in the third inning and the Travelers got another run in the fourth on an infield error, a double by Alex Johnson and a single by Bill Sorrell.

The victories put the Travelers 1 1/2 games ahead of the Eastern Division field.

Billy Passes Willie in the Batting Race

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Move over Willie. Here comes Billy.

Forget it Willie. There goes Billy.

That's how fast the National League batting lead changed hands Thursday as Bill Williams of the Chicago Cubs boosted his average to .402 and took over the top spot held by San Francisco's Willie Mays since April.

Hitless in 10 at-bats, Mays broke out of his slump by tagging his 15th and 16th homers and powering the Giants to a 9-4 victory over Philadelphia that lifted San Francisco back into first place. Mays' 2-for-4 performance left him with a .397 average.

Williams, meanwhile, stroked two singles and a double in four at-bats during the Cubs' 10-3 loss to St. Louis, finally overcoming a Mays' lead that stood at 177 points less than a month ago.

Williams began Operation Overhaul on April 29 when he was hitting .311 and Mays was batting .488. Since then, Williams has been on a 19-game tear, swinging at a .458 clip, while Mays has hit a more-than-respectable .346 but still lost 91 points off his average.

In the other two games scheduled, pitchers stole the spotlight. Dick Farrell tied San Francisco's Juan Marichal for the most victories in the majors by winning his sixth in Houston's 3-1 triumph over Pittsburgh and Sandy Koufax struck out 11 in the Los Angeles Dodgers' 6-1 triumph over the New York Mets.

In American League action, Baltimore edged Kansas City 7-6, Boston defeated the Los Angeles Angels 8-7 and Washington walloped Detroit 8-2. The others were not scheduled.

The Phillies and Giants were tied 4-4 in the fifth when Mays and Orlando Cepeda took over. Mays, who homered with one on in the first inning, snapped the tie with a solo shot and Cepeda put it out of reach by connecting after a walk to Willie McCovey. Mays and Cepeda each drove in three runs.

Richie Allen homered for the Phillies, who were stopped on one hit over the last six innings by reliever Bob Bolin.

Williams, battling to become the first Cub to win the batting title since Phil Cavaretta in 1945, led a 12-hit attack against Ray Sadecki, but the Cardinals had the power.

Tim McCarver and Bill White each tagged two-run homers and Doug Clemens smacked a bases-loaded triple. With that support, Sadecki went all the way, squaring his record at 3-3 with his third straight victory.

Farrell, bringing his record to 6-1, needed Hal Woodeshick's relief help in the ninth after Bill Virdon and Jerry Lynch opened with singles. Woodeshick got Roberto Clemente to hit into a doubleplay and struck out Gene Freese to end the threat.

The Colts got all the runs they needed in the fourth against Vern Law, now 1-4, scoring twice on singles by Nellie Fox, Walt Bond and Mike White plus

Ruth Jessen Low in Civitan Open

DALLAS (AP)—Ruth Jessen shot a seven-under-par 64, the lowest round ever for the Dallas Civitan Open Golf Tournament.

It was just one of a dozen sub-par rounds, all made possible largely by movement of the tee markers in such a way that 302 yards were cut from the Glen Lakes Country Club course. It was trimmed to 5,936 yards.

The ladies PGA didn't like it but will recognize the 64 as equaling the all-time record set by Patty Berg at Richmond, Calif., in 1952. That gave Miss Jessen a three-stroke lead in the first round of the $13,500 tourney.

Mickey Wright, defending champion of the Civitan, shot a one-under-par 70 Thursday as she opened her bid for her bid for her fourth straight tournament championship.

In second place as the tournament moves into its second round are Judy Torluemke, a comparative newcomer to the tour, and Carol Mann, who won the Western Open this year. They had 67s.

Louise Suggs, three-time winner of the Civitan and one of the favorites this year, had a 71.
